

REGIONAL RESILIENCE

What is the potential for regions to adapt?

Australian Government
Productivity Commission

Regional adjustment potential

Regions least likely to adapt (about 12%) are spread across all areas.

There are roughly
2.5 million people living in these regions, with over half in urban areas.

Thanks to a highly flexible workforce, the benefits of the mining boom have spread to workers across regions.

Employment has grown over the past 5 years in about 80% of Australia's regions ...

... and it remains higher in the mining sector now than before the mining boom.

We want your input. Read the initial report & make a submission at pc.gov.au

@ozprodcom