

Name: Anonymous

Submission date: 28/05/2025

1. Support business investment through corporate tax reform

1. What features of the Australian business environment have encouraged or restrained investment over the past 10 years?

The participant did not respond to this question.

2. What elements of the corporate tax system encourage and/or discourage investment and risk-taking?

The participant did not respond to this question.

3. Which parts of the corporate tax system do you find the hardest, or most time or cost-intensive to comply with? How could the compliance burden of the business/company tax system be reduced?

The participant did not respond to this question.

2. Reduce the impact of regulation on business dynamism

1. What areas of regulation do you see as enhancing business dynamism and resilience? What are the reasons for your answer?

The participant did not respond to this question.

2. How has your regulatory burden changed over time?

The participant did not respond to this question.

3. What regulations do you find time-consuming, overly complex or otherwise constraining business dynamism and resilience? What are the reasons for your answer?

The participant did not respond to this question.

4. Can you share any specific examples of where you think a regulator has done a good or bad job of understanding and reducing regulatory burden on businesses and why?

Never mind regulation, as a sole trader who also subcontracts a lot of other sole traders and works multiple job locations across sydney, the workforce in sydney cant get anywhere in a timely manner due to the constant train breakdowns and grid lock on the roads that occurs if there is a puff of wind, minor rain or an accident. Spending close to 2-3 full workdays a week just getting to work. Thats alot of potential productive hours that could be going towards dealing with the above mentioned regulation and paperwork or developing productivity improvements. Never mind work life balance.