Improve school student outcomes with the best available tools and resources

What (if anything) needs to be done to improve the use of edtech tools (including GenAI) in schools?

De stigmatising the concerns about AI and learn how to use it for outcomes. Learning how to prompt, seek specific solutions, and having responses tested and critically evaluated.

What more (if anything) needs to be done to improve awareness and access to high quality lesson planning and curriculum materials in schools?

Critical evaluation of the responses. Not to just accept the responses as truth, but as a coalescence of the systems inputs. It is a synthesising tool,

Is there anything more you would like to say about edtech, GenAI or lesson planning and curriculum materials?

It can be very useful and time saving, but only has value if the output is consistent with expectations
