Dear Sir/Madam

I wish to advise that from a New Zealand perspective that the TTMRA between the New Zealand Engineers Registration Board, that administers the Engineers Registration Act 1924, and the Board of the Professional Engineers of Queensland, that administers the Queensland Professional Engineers Act 1988, has worked well.

The Arrangement has fostered professional engineers' mobility between New Zealand and Queensland. While the number of engineers taking advantage of the regime has been small in number, at five or six a year, registrations in each jurisdiction have proceeded smoothly and efficiently without problems.

Yours sincerely

P E McGill
