Submission to the National Competition Policy analysis 2025 Call for submissions
Australian Government Productivity Commission

In regard to the request for submissions on point 1: "an occupational licensing scheme for electrical trades and other occupations that provides for labour mobility nationally"

I have only one simple advice to give that is more important than anything else that could ever be done in this area.

ADVICE: A national strategy for the licensing of autonomous robotic trades persons be developed as soon as possible to take advantage of the productivity from robotics and AI that is accelerating and increasingly commercially released.
