

Dear Productivity Commission,

I am concerned for the future of our manufacturing industry and in particular the future of our car manufacturing industry should the Productivity commission decide to shut down the auto industry. So many people's lives and livelihood depend on this industry which over the years has sustained many families in employenet. The shut down is bad for the economy as for every $1 put into the auto industry, $31 is gnerated for the whole economy. The banking and mining industries with their high profits receive more support than the car industry ($900 million and $700 respectively. I urge you to please consider your decision carefully as our future depends on it.

As per above.
