

Dear Productivity Commission,

I am a retired engineer having spent over 35 years in Defence. In that time I have seen the manufacturing expertise decline to about the level of the First Fleet primarily through lack of support for industry. Further, corporate knowledge has suffered the same decline. Where are the statesman?

Little direct effect, but as the poorest state in the Commonwealth, the effect overall would be catastrophic.

See above

Think Australian, act Australian, be Australian.

Kind Regards,
Erik Sherwin