

Dear Productivity Commission,

I work in the education sector, yet another sector that continues to have its government funding drastically cut, resulting in lower standards of everything for everyone!

I have several family and friends who work in the auto industry, most of whom are of an older age group and have mortgages, if the industry shuts down so do their lives

The way things are going in Australia we will soon have no manufacturing industries of any kind. If the manufacturing industry dies so do multiple other industries that are supported by the manufacturing industry. Then we have an unemployment problem which then leads to economic problems which then leads to Australia being the unlucky country

With industries and assets all being outsourced or sold off, I see a very bleak future for Australia. I used to be proud to call myself Australian, however over the years I have become ashamed. Our government has no thoughts of well being towards the public or the future, only towards their pockets. No current politician will be remembered well, they bring shame to our shores

Kind Regards,
Elicia Angwin
