

Dear Productivity Commission,

I'm 47 years old, a father of five kids, live in a modest house in Tarneit. I have been working for Futuris the past 13 years.

I obviously will lose my jobs, i will have a huge financial issues, mortgage and feeding the kids. My skills are not transferable to another industry. So i would need to take a big pay cut as i would start something completely different and new.

Huge unemployment in Melbourne, especially in the west region which probably will increase crime and violence.

It is very important to me, my future and well being depends on my job

Kind Regards,
Jean-Jacques Lubin
