RPL Assist is able to help

Individuals

Many people find the process of gaining RPL difficult. Most people have gained skills and knowledge through their employment, volunteer work and life experience. Going to training courses just to learn what you already know is expensive, time consuming and frustrating.

Registered Training Organisations

Numerous small to medium RTO's do not have the resources to develop more User Friendly RPL processes. RPL Assist can provide support services to RTO's by mentoring your clients through the RPL process or through assisting RTO's to meet peak RPL workloads when industries regulate for formal qualifications.

Enterprises

RPL Assist can demonstrate to Enterprises how their work practices can be mapped back to Units of Competency to allow formal recognition of their employees skills.

RPL ASSIST

RPL Assist is the first and only company in operation that specialises in assisting Individuals, Registered Training Organisations and Enterprises to utilise Recognition of Prior Learning to gain formal qualifications for themselves, their clients or employees.

RPL Assist is not a Registered Training Organisation and has no vested interest in making people undertake training that is not required.

Our sole purpose is to assist people to gather evidence of their skills and knowledge which can then be taken to a RTO of their choosing to be assessed.
