

Submission:

I strongly urge you to stop the restrictions on the importation of books which are unfair and costly to the Australian consumer. And in many case, pointless. I have just placed an order overseas for $776, and for personal use, not resale, because of the idiotic cost of books here and the delay in availability. So no one in Australia wins. Surely consumers and booksellers should also have rights.

Linda Moody

20 January 2009