

Dear Sir/Madame,

As I am just starting my career in the book industry as an illustrator I don't want the possible changes to hamper my ability to get work from the various publishers that exist now!!!

There are plenty of places to get cheap books, so why would anyone want the restrictions to be raised to decimate the publishing industry now?

I fully support those who are opposed to the restrictions staying as they are now...

Sincerely

Matthew Shires