

Dear Commissioners,

Over a twenty five year career I have published more than sixty childrens' books with Australian publishers. Many of these have also been published overseas.

I fear that the proposed changes to the parallel importation laws will reduce the capacity of Australian publishers to support Australian authors, with severe consequences not only for Australian authors, but also for readers.

Please reconsider!

yours sincerely

Richard Tulloch