

To whom it may concern

Please reconsider the proposals to allow overseas publications into Australia at the same time as these are being published here!

Australian publishing has a long and excellent history. Small Australian publishers and authors living on marginal incomes deserve and need protection from the large retailers and publishers overseas.

We are avid readers and purchasers of Australian publications and want to keep them viable.

Thank you

Jenny Ginsberg