

AUSTRALIANS FOR AUSTRALIAN BOOKS – WWW.AUSBOOKS.COM.AU

Over 5,000 people have signed an online petition opposing moves to change Australian book copyright rules.

The petition was launched immediately after Easter by the Society of Australian Authors, the Printing Industries Association of Australia, the Australian Literary Agents' Association and the Australian Publishers Association, to help protect Australian territorial copyright for books.

Territorial copyright allows Australian publishers who buy the rights to an overseas book and publish it in Australia within 30 days the exclusive right to sell it in Australia.

The Productivity Commission has issued a draft report recommending that Australian territorial copyright be limited to 12 months.

Responses to the draft report closed on Friday 17 April, when the petition was submitted to the Commission as a submission.

It says:

"I support Australians for Australian Books. I want to keep a strong Australian book industry developing and supporting Australian authors, illustrators and editors, providing a wide range of books at competitive prices through a wide network of big and small booksellers. I strongly support retaining full Australian territorial copyright for books."

Signatories come from all Australian States and Territories.
