Dear Sir

Re: Productivity Commission's Draft Report
"Towards a National Framework for Consumer Policy"

I am writing on behalf of the Australian Mobile Telecommunications Association (AMTA), regarding the Productivity Commission's Draft Report "Towards a National Framework for Consumer Policy".

AMTA agrees with the intended aims of a nationally consistent framework for consumer policy, particularly in relation to delivering to consumers and businesses a more efficient and responsive consumer protection regime with reduced regulatory burden on industry including minimising duplication and inconsistency between the States, Territories and the Commonwealth

The attached submission raises a number of issues and points for clarification in relation to the Productivity Commission's Draft Report.

AMTA thanks the Productivity Commission for the opportunity to provide further input on the development of the framework prior to the submission of its report to the Government.

Yours sincerely
