

DATA

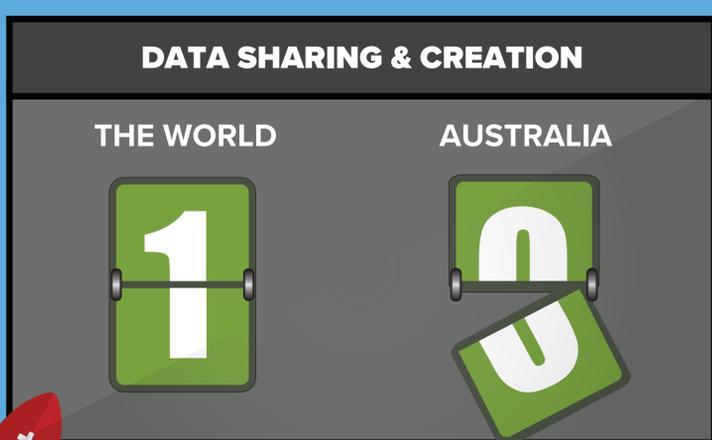

AVAILABILITY & USE

DRAFT REPORT

Globally,
we are creating more data
than ever...

...but Australia is not making the most of it...

...and we are falling behind other countries in how well we share and use the data we create

Data is a new resource for our economy and society and there's no good reason to lock it up

Data is increasingly an asset, and when you create an asset you should have the ability to use it, or not, at your choice.

Our draft report recommends people have more rights over the data collected about them
