

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to tell of my concern if the framework for the above course is changed. I think it is most important that Maternal and Child Health Nurses have a midwifery background to adequately service Victorian families. Without this they may not have appropriate training and background to deal with mother-baby issues.

I would also not be able to study this course without the assistance of a Commonwealth Supported Place at the University.

Regards,

Wendy Gregory
Maternal and Child Health Student.
