

I believe it is essential that all women should have paid maternity leave. With the high cost of houses/mortgages and cost of living most women with children or wanting to have children need to work. When they do have children it is essential that they still have an income coming in so as to support their family in all the living expenses.