Workers Competition Inquiry

Dear Sir,

I refer to previous submission and this is a supplementary submission as a result of an article in the last edition of Whistle (can be obtained from Cynthia Kardell, President of NSW Whistle Blowers). The issue was medical Tribunals and its related to Queensland regarding Medical. Apparently other states have the same problem. The issue relates to one I raised in 1983 which was worded as follows "It is very rarely that one medical professional will contradict another particularly the one given at the source of the accident" this was construed that the medical profession are dishonest but it was used as a justification at the time as to why injured employees should be directed to a company Doctor.

Sincerely

P A Sandilands
